

Cross country 2011

Ready set go! I sprinted past Liam and shot away like a bullet and galloped like a horse. I drifted sharp ways and leapt over logs. I hoped there weren't any wild hogs, wolves and foxes. Onto the board walk, over the water with icky sticky weeds and ooey gooey slime, I puffed. As soon as I was up to the gate I saw Liam. My eyes popped out of my head! OK well they didn't really pop out of my head. It just meant I gasped in horror! Liam was just next to me when I darted away before he could blink. When I was up to the finish line I tripped and fell with a thunderous crash! Then I got up immediately and crossed the finish line!
